

ISED brings out India's Regional Enterprise & Entrepreneurship Footage

While the constituency of 'Enterprise & Entrepreneurship' (E&E) is an area of public interest and policy concern today, what is the real story that comes out from the States and regions of India? Institute of Small Enterprises and Development (ISED), the premier think-tank in the subject area, is to bring out a Report that discusses this. The State level story is woven around and is built upon recent evidences available from secondary data and from the field. The Report will be formally released by Mr. P.Rajeeve, Minister for Industries and Law, Government of Kerala, at Cochin on June 08, 2024.

Organised with the active support of the of the Ministry of MSME, Government of India, and of the State Department of Industries and Commerce, the event is expected to be marked by the active participation of Union and State Government agencies, financial institutions industry associations, insurance companies, entrepreneurs, and other stake holders.

This unique national report is an authoritative source on the latest developments, policy and practice on MSMEs in the States and Union Territories of India. To be released on June 08, 2024, 'India Enterprise & Entrepreneurship in the States Report 2024' is a joint initiative of the ISED Centre for Monitoring Enterprise Development in the States (ISED-CMEDS), along with ISED Small Enterprise Observatory. E-copies of the Report can be ordered at our Portal, www.isedpublications.org, or hard copies through email request at: seo@isedonline.org.

the ISED 36th Foundation Day celebrations to be held at Cochin on June 8.

Against the backdrop of the Covid 19 experience and its fallouts, there is a major imperative for a fresh look at the current policies and strategies relating to promotion of enterprise and entrepreneurship in India, says ISED Director P.M. Mathew, who is also coordinator of the project. While on the one hand, global value chains remain as a sensitive area, the major leaps in technology, under the paradigm of Industry 4.0, revolutionises the production structure, leading to an often painful experience of labour transition. This reality strengthens the case for a 'glocal approach' to enterprise and entrepreneurship as a major imperative.

The Report was prepared jointly by the ISED Centre for Monitoring Enterprise Development in the States (ISED-CMEDS) and the ISED Small Enterprise Observatory (ISED-SEO) which is a think-tank platform of the Institute.

Professor V.K. Ramachandran, Vice chairman of the Kerala State Planning Board, will deliver the 36th Foundation Day Lecture at the Conference. Organised with the active support of the Ministry of MSME, Government of India, and of the State Department of Industries and Commerce, the event is expected to be marked by the active participation of Union and State Government agencies, financial institutions, industry associations, insurance companies, entrepreneurs, and other stakeholders.
