

ISED Chosen for the IASSI Board

Institute Of Small Enterprises and Development, with a track record of 37 years of existence in the social science community in India, has got inducted into the Board of Governors of the Indian Association of Social Science Institutions (IASSI). IASSI is India's premier umbrella organisation of social science institutions, including research institutes and universities.

Founded in 1979, the founders included, KR Narayanan former President of India, and economist Tarlok Singh, Secretary to the first Prime Minister, Jawaharlal Nehru, and subsequently, Member, Planning Commission.